PEOPLE, TEAMWORK, EXCELLENCE

Letter from the CEO

Dear Team Sadoff,

We can already feel winter's grip loosening, and spring is in the air.

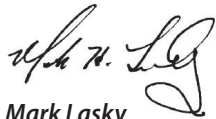

The predictable weather patterns bring a comfort during these times. Commodity markets are roiling and the geopolitical landscape is treacherous. Through it all, we remain a steadfast ship in these stormy seas.

It is important we focus on what we can control, not what we cannot. Working safely, cost-effectively, communicating with each other with professionalism and kindness, solving problems and serving our customers. These are things within our control. It is a misconception that there are ever totally calm times. There are always factors at play that cause disruption.

The role Sadoff plays in ensuring the success of our customers has come into laser focus. Scrap materials delivered on time and within metallurgical specification is essential. Our work is important to keep America moving, fed and safe.

Thank you for the role you play in making Sadoff the Preferred Choice!

Best personal regards,

Mark Lasky
Chief Executive Officer

Amish Handcrafted Tour

The Amish community is a rural community and somewhat different than what most urban people might expect. It is widespread over several townships and consists of small to medium-sized Amish farmsteads and individual homes, many with a small business on the property. Regardless of whether the person is engaged in farming or not...each home has at least a small barn for one or more horses and a grazing area.

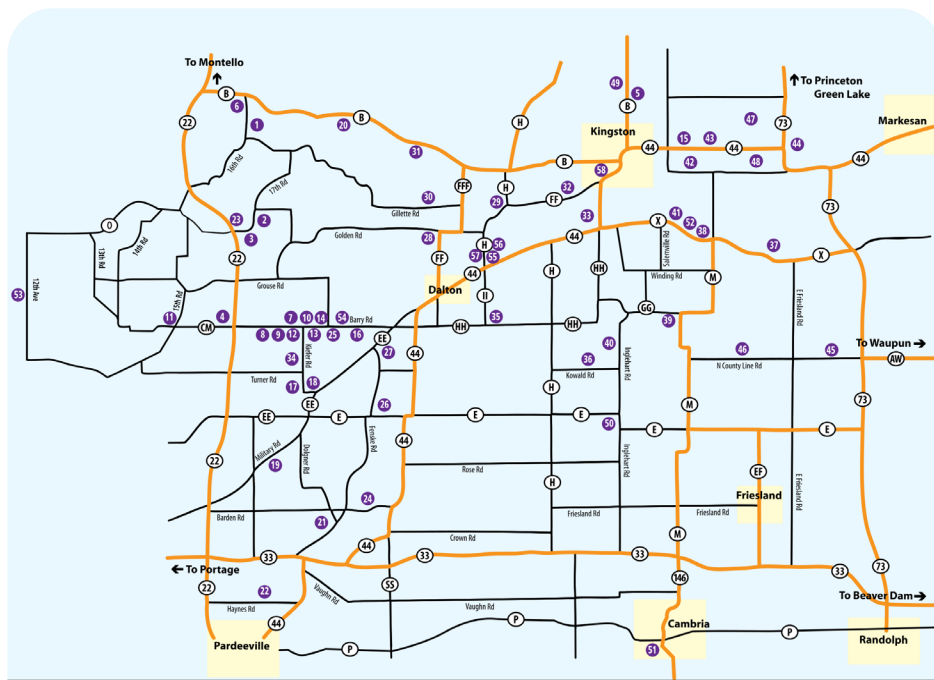

On some rural roads in the community almost all the inhabitants will be Amish...in other areas the Amish will be intermingled with non-Amish, or "English", homeowners or farmers. The Amish refer to all people not members of the Amish community as "English".

Amish business people operate many businesses that cater to the needs of the Amish community itself. Many of these businesses are of great interest to local and regional folks...including many visitors to the area...who wish to purchase goods made in the Amish tradition of craftsmanship and quality. These businesses are usually open Monday thru Wednesday, plus Friday and Saturday. Amish businesses are typically closed on Thursday and Sunday, though this varies from business to business. Thursdays special events such as weddings are held in the Amish community and, of course, Sundays are honored as the Lord's day and a day of rest...with the exception of tending to the needs of the farm animals.

When you visit Columbia county's Amish community please make your trip a safe one. remember, you may be driving on hilly, curvy and narrow township roads... and amongst horse drawn buggies. You must exercise greater caution!

- Drive slowly and cautiously when in the Amish Community
- Slow down when overtaking a horse drawn buggy or farm equipment
- Be patient, do not pass on hills
- When passing a buggy, pass slowly... you could scare the horse
- Watch for pedestrians in the rural areas

Additionally... the Amish People strongly prefer not to have photographs taken of them. Please respect their wishes and focus your photography on buildings, carriages and animals.
